APPLETON COATED Print With Purpose

Appleton Coated offers printers a free copy of "Print With Purpose," a resource designed to provide insight and inspiration to decision makers involved in choosing print. The publication outlines statistics and supporting commentary to explain how printed communication drives action and delivers results. The data-rich content is based on discussions with direct marketing professionals, industry thought-leaders, and current industry research. It describes the benefits of print, backs up the observations with facts and figures, and presents the information in a visual package that illustrates the point.
